It is an expectation that students should complete all assignments/coursework to the standard of their minimum target. If the work completed falls short of these targets then it will be re-produced until it reaches the required grade.

If a student fails to complete an assignment/coursework task, then the subject teacher should complete an 'independent study default' slip, which requires students to complete the task in their next available Independent study slot. This task should then be re-submitted to the subject teacher ASAP
